

For Immediate Release

Name: Maria Zampini
Company: UpShoot LLC
Address: 5010 South Ridge Rd. , Madison, OH 44057
Cell: 440.812.3249
Fax: 440.357.7676
Email: maria@upshoothort.com
Blog: The CoHort Zone
Website: <http://www.upshoothort.com>

Ready, Set, RENOVATE! Bobbie Schwartz leads the charge with new book, Garden Renovation

August 2017 - Cleveland, OH—You know those makeover shows that destroy everything in order to start over? Garden Renovation, the new garden makeover book by award-winning landscape designer Bobbie Schwartz, is not like that. She shares her forty-seven years of gardening and designing experience with you.

Real gardeners and homeowners are looking for help refreshing their yards with pointers. What they want are tips, tricks, techniques, and plant suggestions that will work within their problem spaces, soils, available water and sunlight, and HOA (Homeowner Association) requirements. Not advice that automatically starts with, “First, rent a bulldozer.” That’s just not realistic for most homeowners.

Garden Renovation: Transform Your Yard into the Garden of Your Dreams
Timber Press, November 2017

Garden Renovation for Real Gardeners (No TV Cameras Needed)

Bobbie meets gardeners where they are—unevenly graded spots, wet shade, nuclear sun and all other problematic sites—and offers advice for re-freshing, re-working, re-arranging, and, yes, renovating garden and landscape spaces.

Before work begins, standing on the existing deck with railings all around and covered by an arbor, one feels hemmed in.

The new deck feels expansive and relates well to the house. The sails shade the back deck and the back of the house.

Before getting to the how, she focuses on the why. Unlike those TV makeover shows, few people embark on a gigantic yard project without a vision. Her book will help homeowners decide whether their project can help them:

- Feel welcomed by their home and garden
- Add screening for increased privacy
- Restore utility and function to an area of the yard
- Refresh and update landscape beds to move beyond the 20th century foundation planting aesthetic and free windows from being covered by giant shrubs

Before hiring a landscape designer, the owner of this narrow side yard was stuck looking at grass that didn't want to grow and shallow, stone-covered beds.

The curvilinear gravel path now provides a visual means of making one forget that the site is long and narrow, while the rectilinear path provides firm footing.

Once homeowners have decided their goals, Bobbie helps them make a plan for successful implementation. She covers all bases, including:

- How to decide on a budget
- How to evaluate the current landscape (including soil conditions, existing plants, and hardscape features)
- How to determine what to keep and what to remove
- How to design simple plans for DIY projects
- How to choose plants that will be good replacements for rangy, old existing specimens
- How to decide when to hire help

There's plenty of eye candy and ideas for everything from simple side yards to complex backyard overhauls. No matter the garden and design experience level, readers will find real takeaways to make a difference in their home landscapes.

In the foreword of the book, the Perennial Diva Stephanie Cohen says, "One of the major design problems most homeowners face is not planting a blank slate but rejuvenating an existing garden. They either have a suburban builder's 1940's design across the front, a former homeowner's hodgepodge creation, or an expensive new home with an eighty-dollar landscape. All of these are daunting for the average homeowner, but Bobbie understands. She gets that gardeners are reluctant to change, as are all people. However, she knows that logic, as well as simple plans and pictures, can enhance a garden makeover, and make it a great experience that will provide years of enjoyment. This book puts all of Bobbie's knowledge to work for the intrepid homeowner ready to dig in." Stephanie says, "Take Bobbie's advice and go for it!"

Stephanie Cohen

For interview requests, review copies, and excerpts, contact:

Katlynn Nicolls, Publicist

Email: knicolls@timberpress.com

Phone: 503-227-2878 x 141

Plan a Pep Talk: Invite Bobbie to Speak

Bobbie Schwartz

Ready to "go for it"? Bring Bobbie in to marshal the troops. She offers a huge variety of talks on subjects including all aspects of garden design, history, maintenance, and travel. She can even lead hands-on workshops.

Some topics include:

- A Happy Marriage: Design Integration of House and Landscape
- The Artful Garden
- Pot It! Container Gardening
- Xeriscaping in Temperate Climates
- Why Don't They Read? Designing a Deer-Resistant Landscape

Visit her website for a complete list of talk topics. Of course, she would also love to speak about "Garden Renovation," which makes for an easy book signing tie-in. Bobbie is available for book signings starting immediately.

About Bobbie Schwartz

Award-winning landscape designer Bobbie Schwartz, FAPLD, lectures nationally and writes columns on perennials and landscape design. Her signature style is the use of perennials, flowering shrubs, and ornamental grasses to create year-round color and interest. For more information, visit <http://www.clevelandlandscapegarden.com>.

About Upshoot

UpShoot, LLC is a boutique horticulture marketing firm specializing in the sales, licensing and marketing of new plant introductions to North America, Canada, Europe and Australia. UpShoot also provides marketing services for gardening related products to both the trade and consumer audiences. For more information, contact Maria Zampini, President at 440-812-3249 or maria@upshoothort.com